Guru Gobind Singh Indraprastha University (GGSIPU) conducted Common Entrance Test for Bachelor of Business Administration (CET-BBA) on May 24, 2014. The entrance exam is conducted every year for entry into the prestigious university which is making its name for management courses for around 7500 seats. The pattern of the exam was similar to that of last year. The overall level of the exam was moderate. There were a total of 150 questions and it was supposed to be completed in 150 minutes only. Each question carried 4 marks and for each wrong answer, there was a penalty of -1 mark.

Management and Communication Skills

This section had questions on management aptitude to evaluate the personality traits of aspirants, questions on economics from the topic demand & supply, and few questions on globalization & liberalization. The level of this section can be rated as moderate wherein, an attempt of around 28-32 questions can be considered a good attempt.

Language Comprehension

This section had major questions in reading comprehension and vocabulary. There was 1 reading comprehension passage and 7-8 questions were asked from that. These questions were based on inference and vocabulary and were a little difficult. There were questions spot the error (3-4 questions), jumbled sentences (4-5 questions) and phrase replacement (2-3 questions). These questions were easy. The vocabulary section had questions 5-6 questions of antonyms, 5-6 fill-in-the-blanks questions and 5-6 questions of synonyms. Students could have attempted around 24-28 questions in this section.

Logical Reasoning

This section of the paper was rated as easy to moderate by the students. The questions in this section came from topics like odd one out, blood relations, syllogisms, analogy, direction test arrangement, calendars, cubes & dice, etc. Students' feedback suggests that an attempt of 25-30 questions in this section is considered a decent attempt.

General Awareness

This section had most of the questions which are static in nature. Questions came from topics like Books & Authors, Business & Economics, Sports & Awards, Geography, History and Polity. The level of this section can be rated as moderate as there were few tricky questions also. Students attempting 24-28 questions could be considered a fair attempt.

Section	No. of Questions	Suggested Time (in mins.)
Logical Reasoning	38	50-60
Language Comprehension	38	50-60
General Awareness	37	15-20
Management and Communication Skills	37	20-25
Total	150	150

Overall Cutoff

Overall, if a student has been able to attempt 110-125 questions and is able to score something more than 440, can expect to get a call for the counselling in the university.

Guru Gobind Singh Indraprastha University (GGSIU) conducted Common Entrance Test (CET) 2014 for Law on May 25, 2014. The entrance exam conducted every year to enroll students for the LLB exam offers numerous seats. The pattern of the paper was the same as that of last year. There were total 150 questions and was supposed to be completed in 150 minutes. Each correct answer gave a score of 4 marks and each incorrect answer had a penalty of -1 (minus 1) mark.

Logical Reasoning: This was one of the easiest sections of the paper and it was basically all about critical reasoning. To add surprise, there were 5 questions of Mathematics in this section but nothing of Quantitative Ability as such. There were couple of questions from Syllogisms, analogies, spot the odd one out and one set of arrangements which had around 5-7 questions. The students could have attempted around 33-35 questions and rated the level as easy.

English: This section had one passage of around 500 words which was followed by 5-7 questions. There were lot of questions on vocabulary and they were complex in nature. There were couple of questions on analogies, around 5-7 questions on spot-the-error, 5 questions of para-jumbles and no inference based questions. The level of this section is rated as easy to moderate. Out of the total questions, students who attempted around 28-30 questions can be considered as fair for this section.

General Knowledge: This section was dominated by static GK and very few questions from current affairs. The areas covered in static GK were Geography, History, General Science and other miscellaneous questions. If both the sections are to be rated separately then, it is better to say that the level of difficulty of static GK can be taken as moderate to difficult and the level of difficulty of current affairs section can be rated as easy. Students who could have been able to attempt 28-30 questions can be considered as decent attempt and the overall rate of difficulty of this section can be rated as moderate.

Legal Aptitude: To add more surprise to the paper, this section did not have Legal Reasoning questions at all and had questions based on Legal Knowledge and static legal knowledge. There were questions from Torts, Contracts, Constitution, Polity and questions to check knowledge of article numbers from Constitution of India. An attempt of 28-30 questions can be considered as a decent attempt with the rating to this section as easy to moderate in terms of level of difficulty.

A detailed analysis of the paper is given below:

Section	No. of Questions	Level of Difficulty
Logical Reasoning	37	Easy
English	38	Easy-Moderate
General Knowledge	38	Moderate
Legal Aptitude	37	Easy-Moderate
Total	150	Easy-Moderate
